Summary

Software Engineering student at JUST University with a strong interest in web development and hands-on experience using technologies like React, Express.js, and TypeScript. Skilled in building user-friendly interfaces and scalable backend systems. I've also worked with frameworks like Odoo and am comfortable using GitHub for version control. Through university projects and personal work, I've developed practical skills and gained soft skills such as teamwork and the ability to learn quickly. I'm currently looking for a junior-level position or internship where I can grow as a Frontend, Fullstack, or Odoo Developer and contribute to real-world software solutions.
